Conformity Statement

Based on available representative compositional information, Rose Raduga Absolute is treated as a natural complex raw material.

No universal maximum-use level is assigned in this declaration for the complete absolute. Its conformity must be assessed through the naturally occurring constituents that may be subject to IFRA Standards.

IFRA’s 51st Amendment documentation was formally issued in 2023. IFRA Certificates of Conformity are primarily intended for fragrance mixtures; raw-material suppliers generally provide constituent and conformity information for formulation assessment.

IFRA Category Summary

| IFRA Categories             | Status                                                |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|
| Categories 1–12             | No standalone maximum established in this declaration |
| Permitted Use               | Subject to restricted-constituent calculations        |
| Batch-Specific Analysis     | Required                                              |
| Finished-Product Assessment | Required                                              |
| Cumulative Contributions    | Must be calculated                                    |

The absence of a standalone limit must not be interpreted as unrestricted or unlimited use.
